We connected Mysql and connected with Php Admin, now we have new registered users in our database. Reviewed and redesigned the site itself. Out app name Lumina.

func createUser opens template, which called registration and in handleFunc we telling server that in {registration} url we redirecting to {createUser} page using func saveUser we saving all values from the form from registration page to our mysql db in phpmyadmin handleFunc handling all the routes and methods of app

